

A letter to concerned parents

The following is a letter from our Founder and the developer of our product line. He developed the products with safety, high quality and results orientated goals in mind; always keeping the safety of the products foremost as he is the father of two children and has the same concerns as any parent would for their safety as well as for his and other athletes who consider taking performance supplements.

Dear Fellow Parent,

This is just for YOU...

You see, we are repeatedly asked questions like, "Is this stuff safe for my kids?" "Are there any side effects?" "Is it like steroids?" On and on and on..... Can I blame you for asking? Of course not! If you didn't have any concerns, I'd think there was something wrong with you. I, like yourself, am a parent. I have a son 12 and a daughter 8 who one day I hope will join me in the continued development of safe results oriented nutritional supplements. I have many concerns about them. Should my son really be playing with that rotten kid? Should my daughter be eating so much candy, sugar and simple carbohydrates? What kind of adults will they be? In just a few short years or in the blink of an eye, they'll be pulling out of my driveway for the very first time.

As you and I both know, it's during those crazy teen years when their world literally turns in many directions. That's when they're the easiest to influence. The pressure to use drugs, drink alcohol and to have sex skyrockets! It's the age of curiosity, invincibility and immortality. It's also the key time when the desire to be Bigger, Leaner, Stronger, Faster and to do the UNREAL at all their physical and mental activities kicks into high gear. And what do they believe is the fastest way to reach these goals? You guessed it, by doing preparatory training with a certified trainer/coach, using supplements...and, unfortunately, sometimes, even steroids. Many times our children, as we as adults do, listen to the advice of our contemporaries who we think are knowledgeable.

This is why I am writing this letter...

Your Children and XP Products

Here's what you need to know about XP products in a nutshell:

- They are NOT hormones, pro-hormones, drugs, or steroids
- They do NOT contain any stimulants
- They do NOT contain any cheap fillers
- They ARE used by International Olympic and Professional athletes who cannot afford to take any chances with testing positive for illegal or banned substances

My son, daughter and my partner's son are all pre-teens and use all of the XP products, which is the primary reason we designed all our serving based on one's body-weight, so that they as well as adults can safely take our products. They absolutely love the taste, the increased energy and their increased ability to focus.

Without any doubt, XP provides products that are safe, pure, weight adaptive, are stimulant and drug free and are results oriented.

If you haven't done so already, take a minute to read more about our industry leading testing methods, which should help put your fears to rest. You can get there right now by clicking the tab at the top of this page called about us.

If you have any more questions about any of this, just drop me a line anytime:

info@xpnutrition.com. From one parent to another, I'd be happy to help you in anyway I can.

From one concerned parent to another.....

Best wishes,

Ernie Hassell
